Lancaster Lebanon Psychological Association

Membership Directory

The Lancaster Lebanon Psychological Association (LLPA) was organized to advance psychology as a science, as a profession, and as a means of promoting human welfare. It also addresses the local needs and interests of psychologists who reside or work in the counties of Lancaster and Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

This directory includes the members and associates of LLPA. Members of LLPA must be eligible to present themselves to the public as psychologists according to the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Associate members do not possess the qualifications necessary to present themselves to the public as psychologists. To present oneself to the public as a psychologist, the professional must possess a current psychologist license or must work in an organization as a psychologist.

Each LLPA member who wanted a detailed listing completed a standardized questionnaire from which the publisher compiled the information. Since the biographical information was provided by each member, the publisher does not guarantee the accuracy of listing information.

President:	Jane Knapp, Ph.D
President Elect:	Jean S. Cannon, Psy.D.
Past President:	Alan Babcock, M.Ed.
Secretary/Treasurer:	Judson W. McCune, Ed.D.
Membership/Editor:	Kenneth M. Ralph, Ph.D.

What Are Learning Disabilities & How Do They Affect Those We Love?

How Do We Recognize And Accommodate Learning Disabilities In The Workplace?

How Do We Provide a Ministry of Love and Compassion to Those who are Shut-in

Professional Memberships: LLPA, LDA, NEA, National Center for LD, CHADD, National Headache Assn, International Dyslexia Assn, Lancaster LD Assn

Comment: Wynn Robinson's disappearance from his bus stop one spring morning prompted his mother to become informed and active. Her account of this journey is designed to advise, enlighten, encourage and promote self-advocacy. Over 20% of the population is "differently-abled." Her desire is to educate the general population on the subject of learning disabilities.
